'All New' Buick To Make

A finish which does away with wax jobs; engines which operate more economically, aluminum brake drums and clean, long-line styling will be featured in the "all new" Buick line to be introduced Friday at the Joyce Buick showrooms.

Bill Joyce, manager of the agency, said a selection of models will be on display plus demonstration models.

"The whole line is so completely new the line has been renamed," Joyce said. The Special model will be known as LeSabre, meaning "quick and sharp," the former Century and Super series have been combined into the Invicta, meaning "spirited" and the former Roadmaster will be known as the Electra, the luxury car of the line.

The finish which the entire line will boast is an acrylic or plastic lacquer, available in 13 colors with matching interiors Joyce said salt water and sun tests of the lacquer show it to be 10 times as
