

2/7/1894

Eastern Star Officers.

The following officers of Ruth Chapter, No. 17, Order of the Eastern Star, were installed last night by Mrs. J. A. Hawkins;

Worthy matron, Mrs. J. A. Hawkins; worthy patron, Hugh Young; associate matron, Mrs. B. F. Williams; secretary, Miss Jessie French; treasurer, Mrs. A. J. Eggert; conductress, Mrs. James Jones; associate conductress, Mrs. Frank Taylor; Adah, Mrs. Hugh Young; Ruth, Mrs. A. Homberger; Ester, Mrs. A. M. Young; Martha, Mrs. B. F. Harding; Electa, Mrs. Lou Jourdan; warder, Mrs. W. M. Boughton; sentinel, Lou Jourdan; chaplain, Mrs. W. H. Taylor; marshals, Mrs. A. B. Dittenhoefer and Miss Mary McNeil; organist, Mrs. Claud Platt.

12/16/1894

A PLEASANT EVENT.

Assistant Postmaster Martin Banquets the Postoffice Employees.

One of the pleasant events of the season was the banquet given to the attaches of the postoffice last evening by Assistant Postmaster Martin in honor of his recent marriage. It has been the custom for every attache of the office to give a banquet on the occasion of a special event, and "Billy" has recognized this custom.

Promptly at 8 o'clock the letter carriers, the other attaches of the office and a SHIELD reporter, headed by Postmaster Bell and Assistant Postmaster Martin, numbering twenty in all, filed across the street from the postoffice to The Star restaurant, where they were seated to a heavy laden table. Everybody had been saving up for the occasion for a week and the way the good things disappeared made the caterer tremble. It was indeed a jovial crowd and the way they fired jokes up and down and across the table made "Billy" think he had been in the ranks for years. About an hour later, after extending best wishes to the host, the party dispersed.

4/11/1894

It is William Sturges.

The SHIELD yesterday copied a dispatch in the Ohio State Journal stating that John Sturges had lost his mind in Chicago and that his unfortunate condition was due to worry over a large law suit against the Farwell Company. It has since been learned that the Sturges mentioned is William Sturges, a son of Solomon Sturges, and a former resident of Zanesville. He is a cousin of Willis Sturges, H. H. Sturges and Don Sturges, of this city.

M. D. HARTER

AT HIS HOME ON PARK AVENUE WEST.

Our Congressman Will Spend His Time in This City, Canton and Fostoria Until the December Session of Congress.

8/29/1894

Congressman M. D. Harter arrived in the city at 12:35 this afternoon, over the B. & O. railroad.

Mr. Harter immediately entered his carriage and was driven to his residence on Park Avenue West.

To a SHIELD reporter Mr. Harter

CONGRESSMAN HARTER.

MANSFIELD (OH) DAILY NEWS said that until the December session of Congress he will spend his time in looking after his business interests in this city, Canton and Fostoria, and will probably go to Fostoria tomorrow morning. Mr. Harter's family will return to Philadelphia some time next month.

Congressman Harter, in speaking of the new tariff law, said that although it is less than he desired, still it is a vast improvement over the McKinley law, and will prove beneficial.

Mr. Harter is feeling exceedingly well, but he says the long and hot summer and the hotter congressional debates have reduced his weight.

MANSFIELD (OH) DAILY NEWS

GEO. BOENAU, 7/19/1894

The Daily Shield's Efficient Agent at Shelby.

George Boenau is known to everybody in Shelby. He landed there in March, 1863. That was his first experience in political campaigns in Ohio, and a hot one it was. He applied for naturalization as soon as eligible, and became a true American citizen. He soon acquired the English language, became a student of American affairs, and also of the principles of the American Democracy, ever loyal to his adopted country and the party of his choice. Providence has endowed him with a ponderous brain. He carries a level head on broad shoulders, set upon a sound, compact body, as well as the SHIELD by his side, and thus has made the best possible use of American institutions. He is an ardent German-American.

Mr. Boenau understands general politics and has been a profound student of all religions. He despises trickery, deceit and demagoguery and gives no countenance to either; says but little until he is attacked and then can wage as good an argument as any to support his views. Independent, self-reliant and confident, he gives way to nothing but the word of God and what he terms good common sense.

He carries the SHIELD and other publications, does just what he believes to be right, collects the amounts due his newspapers without fear or favor or partiality, when due; and when people fool him in this, the second time it will be his fault. He never trusts a dead-beat if he knows it. He pays as he goes and makes a fair competence. Everybody respects him, and thus he lives and thus he will die—a reliable American, a Democrat and faithful servant of the press and the people. Long live George Boenau.

Broke Her Nose.

Last night while Mrs. Sarah B. Littler was chopping a piece of wood at her residence, 16 North Diamond street, a piece of it flew up and struck her in the face. Mrs. Littler was blinded by the blow and started to run, when she ran into the wall, breaking her nose. Dr. Stewart was called and dressed the injured member. 4/26/1894

It looks as if grand army men at Mansfield may refuse to support W. S. Kerr, of that place, for Congress. When a member of the Legislature he had a bill passed taking away from the Grand Army Post there the control of the Mansfield Memorial building.—Mt. Gilead Register.

File July 1894
Daily Shield